'At-Risk' Building Permit Submittal

A building permit application may be submitted after the first review comments have been issued for the development plan. The Planning & Building Director must give written acceptance. The 'at-risk' submittal is voluntary and is designed to allow flexibility in the permitting process.

Project Name: _____ Case No.: _____

Project Address: _____

I request approval to submit a building permit application for the above project prior to development plan approval. I acknowledge this is an 'at-risk' submittal and realize any modifications to the development plan prior to its approval may impact this project. Per State Law A.R.S. § 9-835 if the building permit substantive review is rejected, the plan check fee is not refunded and the process is started over.
